

EXPAND YOUR Horizons

An expanding side and a carefully fit out interior have primed this RV for any adventure

If you're looking to spend any significant amount of time in your caravan, you're going to need a bit of space. Buying a van with a slide out offers you the best of both worlds – a standard-size van when towing, but a larger internal living space once you've pulled up for the night.

Cell Caravans manufactures a large range of RVs, with the Funfinder Peninsula being one of the most popular. Through careful planning, the team have managed to keep the purchase price at a realistic rate for most RVers, and offer a range of options for those looking to spec their van up to offer everything you could imagine.

The choice is yours with a Cell caravan.

Although the slide out is one of the biggest features of the Funfinder Peninsula, the team have also managed to include timber and carpet flooring, whitewash cabinetry and an extra-large en suite, all making this van one for you to seriously consider.

EXTERNAL FEATURES

FRAME CONSTRUCTION: Alumi-X welded aluminium frame

OUTER SKIN: Lamilux 4000 laminated gel-coat fibreglass walls

INSULATION: Fully insulated sandwich-panel walls, roof and floor, 90mm thick insulation in thickest part of crowned roof

WATER TANKS: 136L fresh water, 144L grey water, 144L black water

WHEELS/SUSPENSION: 14in wheels, dual axle, Trailair suspension system with Equa-flex rubberised suspension enhancement, leaf springs

AWNING: 5.5m (18ft) Dometic power awning

BOOT(S): Large pass-through tunnel boot at front of caravan

GAS CYLINDER SIZE/S: Two 9kg gas bottles

HOT WATER: Suburban hot water service, gas and electric

12V ELECTRICAL SYSTEM: 30A electro smart-charger with 240VAC converter

The Funfinder Peninsula features a slide-out lounge area that dramatically increases the internal living space of the van. A front boot offers some extra storage and an external spray away offers quick and easy access to water at any time.

Rather than a small and difficult-to-use en suite, the bathroom in the Funfinder Peninsula is likely as big as your bathroom at home. A full-size shower is completely sealed to avoid water ingress into the rest of the van. A toilet and vanity basin are included, as well as a large linen cupboard to keep clothes and towels clean, dry and out of the way.

There are some things in RV design that make the difference between a comfortable living situation and a truly luxurious one. The flooring in the Funfinder Peninsula is a great example of this kind of luxury. Timber-finish floors are used throughout the main thoroughfare, however they transition to carpet in the spaces where you spend most of your time, such as underneath the dinette. This offers added comfort and a relaxed feel where it matters most.

A quality bed can make or break your next trip, so any RV purchase you're considering should start with a look at the quality of the master bed. The mattress in the Funfinder Peninsula is a true queen size at 2.03m (6ft 8in) long and offers more than enough comfort for even the fussiest of sleepers.

PRIVACY DOOR: Solid door
TOILET: Thetford flush toilet
SHOWER HEAD: Chrome shower head with extra on/off switch

The kitchen in the Funfinder Peninsula is likened to a beachside mansion rather than a caravan. Whitewash cabinetry capitalises on the natural light that floods the space, ensuring you'll always be in a positive mood when it comes time to brew your morning coffee. Timber-finish flooring is a darker look, contrasting the cabinetry nicely. Hard-wearing granite-look bench tops are easy to clean, yet stylish. The key to enjoyable RV ownership is keeping your maintenance time as low as possible, and Cell Caravans has worked hard to ensure this is the case with the Funfinder Peninsula.

The dinette can be optioned with a leather finish to ensure maximum comfort for you and those joining you on your journey. Convenient drawers have been designed into the structure of the seats. They make an ideal storage place for cutlery and table dressings, and can be accessed even when you're sitting down. A larger sitting area is located directly adjacent to the dinette, to ensure there's enough space to house even the biggest of dinner parties.

When getting yourself organised for that big trip you've been planning for years, it quickly becomes clear that plenty of storage space is essential for any RV. The Funfinder Peninsula features a dual-access boot that runs right along the front of its body. The space inside is lined with timber to prevent against damage to both the inside of your RV and the goods you're carrying, and a hose and water outlet are also positioned here to ensure you're able to get hold of water as quickly as required.

Using careful planning and design techniques, Cell Caravans has been able to offer more living areas in the Funfinder Peninsula than other manufacturers have in larger vans. This centre wall offers privacy to the bedroom and also doubles as a mounting space for the entertainment system.

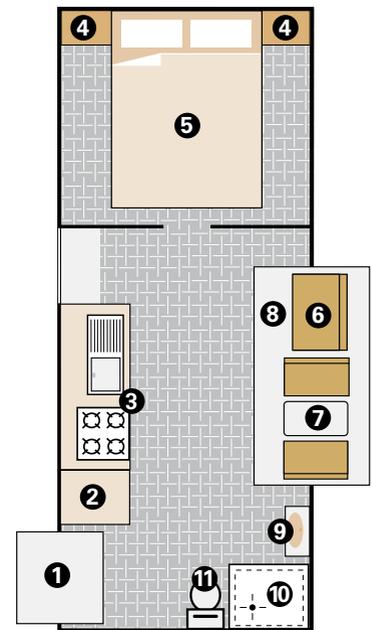

Another highlight in the Funfinder Peninsula is the external kitchenette, with an optional bar fridge or washing machine. This system allows you to free camp in style and ensures you're able to make the most of the great outdoors. A gas cooker, sink and washing machine mean you'll rarely need to venture inside again. Quality brands, such as Dometic, have been used throughout to ensure there are no unexpected malfunctions in the middle of your trip.
